

The background of the image is a dark reddish-brown color with a subtle, intricate pattern of lighter, wavy lines that resemble topographic map contour lines or perhaps the texture of wood grain. These lines flow across the entire frame, creating a sense of depth and movement.

Really nice sentiment that stuck with me from state of @AgriLife address by @jsavell was ~ "I always look forward to a Friday, but I've never dreaded a Monday" and how we need to create that condition for our employees.

I found myself sharing that a lot yesterday.
